Park University Honors Academy Honors Project Updates

Spring 2014 - Schedules and Information

Spring 2014 Schedule:

HN303 – April 25, 3:00 – 5:00 PM, the McCoy Meetin’ House
HN304 - April 7, 3:30 - 4:30 - place TBD - Symposium Panel

All students arrive 20 minutes before your scheduled presentation time

All Narrative items (see bulleted list below) and preferred presentation time due to Dr. Shannon Cuff, Honors Academy Faculty Fellow Coordinator, at Shannon.cuff@park.edu, on or before:
HN303: noon, April 14.
HN304: noon, March 27

- These are mandatory meetings
- Mentors should accompany students
- Snacks will be provided for mentors and students at updates

Each year all HN303 and HN304 junior and senior level students and their mentors meet with members of the Honors and Scholarship Committee, which is chaired by the Director of the Honors Academy. The purpose of the presentations is to allow you to discuss the status of your research projects with committee members and the general public. The committee members may use the occasion to supply feedback and direction for you, suggesting changes and/or additions to the project. Guests may be invited, and various administrators and faculty stop by to learn more about your projects! In the spring semester, HN304 students will present as part of a panel in the Annual Research and Creative Arts Symposium.

If you are enrolled in HN303, you will present a narrative summary that describes the project and progress made since the project’s inception that also includes a list of a minimum of 10 sources (these may be prospective interviews and other primary sources as well as print sources). Please email your narrative to Dr. Shannon Cuff, Honors Academy Faculty Fellow Coordinator, at Shannon.cuff@park.edu, on or before: noon, April 14. Mentors, please discuss your preferred day and time for your student’s 15 minute presentation. Please send that information to the Honors Academy Faculty Fellow Coordinator, as noted above.

Your narrative must contain:

- a working project title
- your name
- your status (junior, senior)
- your mentor’s name
You may also show a representation of the project. The project representation may be a written excerpt and/or power point, photographs, artwork, etc. also submit a list of references used in their research thus far.

If you are enrolled in HN304 you will present a representation of the project in addition to a narrative summary that describes the project and progress made since the last update. Progress should be evident. You will also include a list of all sources. Your presentation will be part of a panel presentation in the Symposium format. You must adhere to length restrictions. Please email all required items to Dr. Shannon Cuff, Honors Academy Faculty Fellow Coordinator, at Shannon.cuff@park.edu, on or before: noon, March 27.

Your narrative must contain:
  • a working project title
  • your name
  • your status (junior, senior)
  • your mentor's name
  • a visual representation of the project. The project representation may be a written excerpt from a creative project that you will read aloud and/or power point, photographs, artwork, etc.