NOTE: Each scheduled laboratory or studio hour will be considered to be equal to two-thirds (.67) of a credit hour. Natural and physical science laboratory hours will be considered to be equal to one (1) credit hour.

In compliance with local MOU's, a proposed course taught at a military campus center will be limited to 30 students; over 30 students may be split into two (2) sections. If courses with more than 30 students are not split into two sections, an overload of $100 per credit hour will be paid. Running a course with more than 30 students must have approval of the Education Services Officer, if applicable. (This policy does not apply to online courses or courses offered at non-military campus centers).

A proposed course with seven or fewer students will have a remuneration of a rate equal to that of an individualized instruction. The number of students and, therefore, the scheduled contract remuneration will be determined after the enrollment adjustment period. (Does NOT apply to full-time faculty of Park University.)
